Murray's Organ Method, - - - $2.50

By JAMES R. MURRAY.

Mr. Murray is well known as a composer and teacher of wide experience, and every feature in this work has been thoroughly tested by him and others in practical work, with the most favorable results. Its method is new, clear and concise, containing among other novelties a "Preliminary Practice Without Notes." The lessons are entirely practical, full of interest and thoroughly progressive. Its music embraces selection for all occasions where music is desirable; in short, it is a Perfect Organ Instructor.

The New Musical Curriculum, - - - 3.00

By GEO. F. ROOT.

This celebrated work has been justly styled "The King of Piano Instructors," and for some years has led all others in the race of competition. Its elements, exercises and pieces are thoroughly progressive in every respect. Teachers who give it a trial will never use any other instructor.

Heart and Voice, - - - - 35

FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

Edited by W. F. SHERWIN.

This book has at once taken a place in the front rank of Sabbath School Music Books and it can safely be said that it has no superior. In the three great elements that constitute a successful Sunday School Song Book: a Choice Hymns, Attractive Music, Unusual Variety it stands without an equal. Its general workmanship coincides with its contents and the result is, that it is as nearly perfect a book of its kind, as can be made.

The School of Singing, - - - 3.00

By F. W. ROOT

A method for the voice, upon an entirely new plan, which will be found simple, comprehensible and complete. It develops power and quality of voice, rationally, and naturally, and instructs the pupil in all points concerning style of singing. It includes a course of instructions for learning to read vocal music readily at sight, and contains, besides the exercises and suggestions for practice, a collection of the most beautiful songs extant, with minute directions for their performance. Teachers, without elaborate preparation, can use this method with entire safety and success. No singer can afford to be without it, for beside the instructions the School of Singing contains music which, if purchased in sheet form, would cost four or five times the price of the book.

All who would be willing to pay three dollars for one, two, or three first class music lessons should remember that for the same money they can purchase a three years' course, with music included, in F. W. Root's School of Singing.

The book is a companion to The Musical Curriculum, being the same size and shape, and sold upon the same terms.

David, the Shepherd Boy, - - - 75

By GEO. F. ROOT.

A beautiful Cantata for the Choir or Choral Society, with numbers that may be sung by the children of the Sunday School. The music is considered to be the best that Dr. Root has ever written. The words are by Hezekiah Butterworth the well known contributor to the "Youth's Companion."

Model Organ Method, - - - 2.50

By GEO. F. ROOT.

The work strikes one as symmetrical and complete. Beginning at the very beginning, it leads, by almost imperceptible degrees of increase in difficulty and by means of really beautiful music, to such attainments as qualify one for playing tastefully and well, church music accompaniments and organ solos of medium difficulty, and to begin, if desirable, the study of the large pipe organ. Such a course occupies half of the book, the remainder being filled with a remarkable collection of music—thoroughly practicable for players of the usual attainments, pieces the right length for church use, and always attractive musically.

The New Choir & Congregation, - 2.00

GEO. F. ROOT.

After a long trial of the "New Idea" in the "Choir and Congregation," the second and greatly improved work on the same plan appears. It is believed to be the most comprehensive manual for musical service and worship that has ever been published. The "New Choir and Congregation" contains several important features lacking in the older work, and is now believed to be as nearly perfect as is possible, and the collection the most varied of all books in popular use.

A thoroughly practical work on organ tuning, voicing and repairing. This little manual will save many a vexatious delay, and will make the studious organist largely, if not wholly, independent of the city tuner, who is expensive and often dilatory. Country Organists will find it invaluable. Here are some of the points treated: Organ construction; tools for voicing and tuning; materials used for pipes; pressure and pit-h, voicing metal work, chamber scales; principal, diapason, fifteenth and other stops; their character, etc.; voicing stopped and flute work, wood, and metal; pedals stops; management of reed stops; tuning, harping, or temperament; order of tuning stops, etc., etc.

The Song Tournament, - - - 1.00

By GEO. F. ROOT.

A Cantata, introducing the characteristic music of the different nations. While quite easy of performance, this interesting work is one of its author's most effective productions. The idea—a very happy one—is a competition of different nations, musically, but all uniting at last under the "stars and stripes" in a grand finale, founded on the well-known melody, sung in an intermingled way, and surrounded by a climax growing out of the previous theme of the Cantata. In all, the Cantata has thirty numbers, (including such melodies as "Old Folks at Home," "Song for Tyrol-land," and patriotic tunes) and will take from one hour to one and a half in performance. It may be given either with or without stage effect and costumes.
