The musical score for 'The Rose Tree' is presented in two systems. The first system consists of four staves: a vocal line (soprano), a piano accompaniment (piano), and two additional staves (likely for a second vocal part or a different instrument). The second system also consists of four staves, with the vocal line (soprano) and piano accompaniment (piano) clearly visible. The piano part features a prominent melody in the right hand, marked with a piano (p) dynamic. The vocal line is written in a soprano clef and includes lyrics in German. The piano accompaniment is written in a piano clef and includes a melody in the right hand and a bass line in the left hand. The score is written in a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a common time signature (C). The tempo is marked 'Allegretto'.

This image shows a page from a musical score, likely for a symphony, featuring multiple staves with complex notation. The score is written in a key signature of three sharps (F#, C#, G#) and a 4/4 time signature. The top right corner indicates a tempo change to "rit. molto" (ritardando molto) and a "10 Solo" section. The score includes various dynamics such as f (forte), ff (fortissimo), dim. (diminuendo), mf (mezzo-forte), and pp (pianissimo). Performance instructions like "riten." (ritardando) and "rit. molto" are present. The score is divided into systems, with the first system containing staves for Piccolo, 10 Solo, and other instruments. The second system continues the orchestration. The third system includes a section marked "senza sord." (senza sordina) for the snare drum. The score concludes with a final system featuring a "rit. molto" marking and a "div." (diviso) instruction for some instruments. The notation includes various note values, rests, and articulation marks, with some notes marked with "2" indicating a second ending or a specific articulation. The overall layout is typical of a professional musical score, with clear staves and detailed annotations.
