

OLD HUNDRED. L. M. Brady & Tate, or B. & T. Ps. 100.

M. Luther. 77

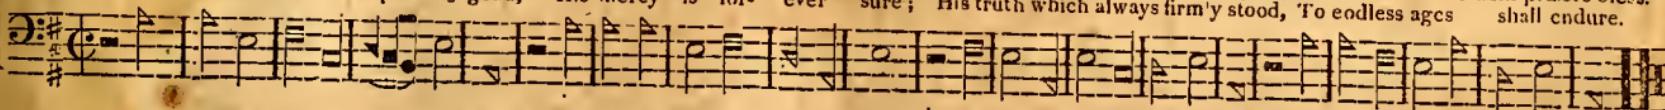

Andante.

1. With one coosent let all the earth, To God their cheerful voices raise ; Glad homage pay, with awful mirth, And sing before him songs of praise.
 2. Convinced that he is God a- lone, From whom both we and all proceed ; We whom he chooses for his own, The flock that he vouchsafes to feed.

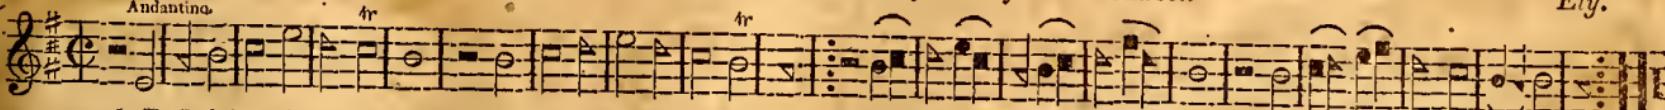

3. O enter then his temple gate, Thence to his courts devoutly press ; And still your grateful hymns repeat, And still his name with praises bless.
 4. For he's the Lord su- premely good, His mercy is for- ever sure ; His truth which always firm'y stood, To endless ages shall endure.

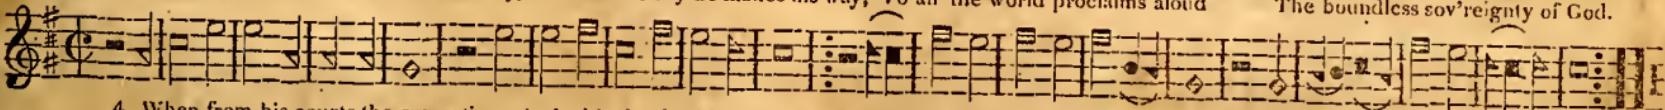

PRAISE. L. M. Dr. Rippon, Hy. 1. By Dr. Stennett.

Ely.

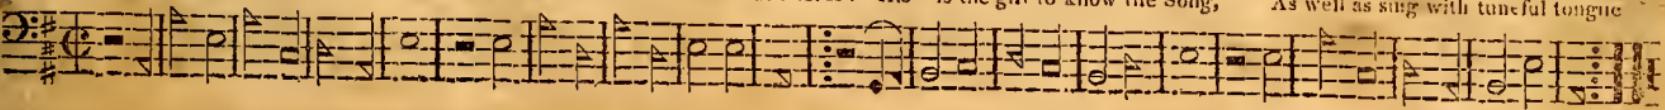

Andantino.

1. To God the univer- sal King, Let all mankind their tribute bring ; All that have breath, your voices raise, In songs of never ceasing praise.
 2. The spacious earth on which we tread, And wider heav'ns stretch'd o'er our heads, A large and solemn temple frame, To cele- brate its builder's fame.
 3. Here the bright sun that rules the day, As thro' the sky he makes his way, To all the world proclaims aloud The boundless sov'reignty of God.

4. When from his courts the sun retires, And with the day his voice expires, The moon and stars adopt the song, And thro' the night the praise prolong.
 5. The li tning earth the music hears, Th' harmonious music of the spheres ; And all her tribes the notes repeat, That God is wise, and good, and great.
 6. But man, endow'd with nobler pow'rs, His God in nobler straies adores : His is the gift to know the Song, As well as sing with tuneful tongue.

 2. His sacred limbs they stretch, they tear, With nails they fasten to the wood; His sacred limbs expos'd and bare, Or only cover'd with his blood.
 3. See there! his temples crown'd with thorns, His bleeding hands extended wide, His streaming feet transfix'd and torn, The fountain gushing from his side.
 4. Thou dear, thou suffering Son of God, How doth thy heart to sinners move! Sprinkle on us thy precious blood, And melt us with thy dying love.
 5. The earth could to her centre quake, Convuls'd, when her Creator dy'd; Oh, may our inmost nature shake, And bow with Jesus crucify'd!
 6. At thy last gasp, the graves display'd Their horro'rs to the upper skies; Oh that our souls might burst the shade, And quicken'd by the death, arise!
 7. The rocks could feel thy pow'rful death, And tremble, and asunder part; Oh, rend, with thy expiring breath, The harder marble of our heart.

And gnaw my wasting flesh,
When God shall build my bones again,
He'll clothe them all afresh.
- 4 Then shall I see thy lovely face
With strong immortal eyes,
And feast upon thy unknown grace,
With pleasure and surprise.

- 3 His love! what mortal thought can reach!
What mortal tongue display!
Imagination's utmost stretch,
In wonder dies away.
- 3 He left his radiant throne on high,
Left the bright realms of bliss,
And came to earth to bleed and die!
Was ever love like this?

ST. JAMES. C. M. Dr. Ripp. Hy. 288.

Dr. Croft.

1 Dear Lord, why should I doubt thy love, Or dis- believe thy grace? Sure thy compassions ne'er remove, Al tho' thou hide thy face.

- 2 Thy smile have freed my heart from pain
My drooping spirits cheer'd:
And wilt thou not appear again
Where thou hast once appear'd.
3 Hast thou not form'd my soul anew,
And told me, I am thine?
And wilt thou now thy work undo,
Or break thy word divine?
4 Lord! let not groundless fears destroy
The mercies now possess'd;
I'll praise for blessings I enjoy,
And trust for all the rest.

1 The Spring, great God, at thy command, Leads forth the smiling year; Gay verdure, foliage, blooms and flow'rs, T' adorn her reign appear.

- 2 The sun, thy minister of love,
That from the naked ground,
Calls forth the hidden seeds to birth,
And spreads their beauties round,
3 At the dread order of his God,
Now darts destructive fires;
Hills, plains, and vales are parch'd with
And blooming life expires. [droug]
4 Pity us Lord in our distress,
Nor with our land contend;
Bid the avenging skies relent,
And show'rs of mercy send.

- 2 "Princes this clay must be your bed,
In spite of all your tow'rs;
The tall, the wise, the rev'rend head,
Must lie as low as ours."
3 Great God! is this our certain doom?
And are we still secure?
Still walking downward to the tomb,
And yet prepare no more!
4 Grant us the pow'r of quick'ning grace
To fit our souls to fly;
Then when we drop this dying flesh,
We'll rise above the sky.

2 Touch'd with a sympathy within,
He knows our feeble frame!
He knows what sore temptations mean,
For he has felt the same.

3 He'll never quench the smoking flax,
But raise it to a flame;
The bruised reed he never breaks,
Nor scorns the meanest name.

WORKSOP. C. M. Dr. Ripp. Hy. 546. By Steele. Dr. Rippon's Coll.

1 How long shall earth's alluring lays Detain our hearts and eyes, Regardless of immortal joys, And strangers to the skies.

- 2 These transient scenes will soon decay:
They fade upon the sight;
And quickly will their brightest day,
Be lost in endless night.
- 3 Their brightest day, alas, how vain!
With conscious sighs we own;
While clouds of sorrow, care, and pain,
O'ershade the smiling noon.

Above these gloomy shades,
To those bright worlds beyond the sky,
Which sorrow ne'er invades!

Grazioso.

1 "Shepherds rejoice, Shepherds rejoice, Lift up your eyes, And send your fears a way. News from the regions of the skies, Salvation's born to-day, Salvation's born to-day. Salvation's born to-day.

2 "Jesus, the God whom angels fear,
Comes down to dwell with you;
To-day he makes his entrance here,
But not as monarchs do.

3 "No gold, nor purple, swaddling bands,
No royal shining things;
A manger for his cradle stands,
And holds the King of kings.

4 "Go, shepherds, where the Infant lies,
And see his humble throne;
With tears of joy in all your eyes,
Go, shepherds, kiss the Son."

5 Thus Gabriel sing, and straight around
The heavenly armies throng,
They tune their harps to lofty sound,
And thus conclude the song.

"Glor! to God that reigns above,
Let peace surround the earth,
Mortals shall know their Master's love,
At their Redeemer's birth."

7 Lord! and shall angels have their songs,
And men no tunes to raise?
Lord may we loose these useless tongues
When they forget to praise.

CAMBRIDGE. S. M. Dr. W. Hy. 104. B. II. Dr. Harrison.

1 Raise your tri- umphant songs, To an immortal time, Let the whole earth resound the deeds, Celestial grace hath done.

- 2 Sing how eternal love
Its chief beloved chose,
And bid him raise our wretched race
From this abyss of woes.
- 3 His hand no thunder bears,
Nor terror clothes his brow,
No bolts to drive our guilty souls
To fiercer flames below.
- 4 'Twas mercy fill'd the throne,
And wrath stood silent by,
When Christ was sent with pardon down
To rebels doom'd to die.

THATCHER. C. M. Dr. Ripp. Hy. 547. vrs. 6—9. Handel.

1 Now we expect a day Still brighter far than this, When death shall bear our souls away To realms of light and bliss.

- 2 There rapt'rous scenes of joy
Shall burst upon our sight,
And ev'ry pain, and tear, and sigh,
Be drown'd in endless light.
- 3 Beneath thy balmy wing,
O sun of Righteousness !
Our happy souls shall sit and sing
The wonders of thy grace.
- 4 Nor shall that radiant day,
So joyfully hegbli,
In evening shadows die away,
Beneath the setting sun.

1 Absent alas ! from God, We in this body mourn; And pine to quit this mean abode, And languish to return.

- 2 Jesus regard our vows
And change our faith to sight ;
And clothe us with our nobler house
Of everlasting light.
- 3 O let us put on thee !
In perfect holiness,
And rise prepar'd thy face to see,
Thy bright unclouded face.
- 4 Thy grace with glory crown,
Who hast thine earnest giv'n ;
And now triumphantly come down
And take our souls to heav'n.

That place of thy people's abode;
Where saints in an ecstacy gaze,
And hang on a crucify'd God.
Thy love for a sinner declare,
Thy passions and death on the tree;
My spirit to Calvary bear,
To suffer and triumph with thee.
