

The Watcher

Poem by JAMES STEPHENS *

Music by
CECIL FORSYTH

Voice Larghetto placidly
A rose for a young head, A Piano espress. dolce mp p ring for a bride, Joy for the home - stead Clean and wide - mp poco rit. p

mp poco rit. p più rit.

Quick and excited poco rit. Primo Tempo (larghetto)

Who's that wait-ing In the rain out - side?

p Poco Allegro poco rit. pp espress. dolce mp placidly

A heart for an old friend, A hand for the new:

* By kind permission of the author. from "Insurrections" (The Macmillan Company.)

Copyright, 1918, by J. Fischer & Bro.

British Copyright Secured

mp poco rit. p Quick and excited p

Love can to earth lend Hea - ven's hue - Who's that stand - ing In the mp poco rit. p più rit. pp p poco allegro poco rit. Primo Tempo (larghetto) placidly sil - ver dew? A smile for the poco rit. pp espress. dolce mp p

Red. *

mp

part - ing, A tear as they go, God's - sweet - heart - ing

mp

poco rit. p Quick and excited p poco rit.

Ends just so - Who's that watch - ing Where the black winds blow?

poco rit. p più rit. pp p poco allegro poco rit. pp

Red. *

a tempo (poco allegro)

He who is wait - ing In the rain out - side, He who is stand - ing Where the dew drops wide, He who is watch - ing In the wind must ride With the rose and the ring And the p cresc. poco a poco bride, Must ride With the red of the rose, And the gold of the ring, And the lips mf cresc.

and the hair of the

f poco rit. a tempo mf secco bride.

ff