THE NIGHTINGALE, NEAR THE HOUSE

HAROLD MONRO

EDGAR L. BAINTON

CURWEN EDITION

The Nightingale, near the house.

Here is the soundless cypress on the lawn:
It listens, listens. Taller trees beyond
Listen. The moon at the unruffled pond
Stares. And you sing, you sing.

That star-enchanted song falls through the air
From lawn to lawn down terraces of sound,
Darts in white arrows on the shadowed ground;
And all the night you sing.

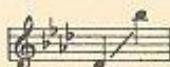

My dreams are flowers to which you are a bee
As all night long I listen, and my brain
Receives your song, then loses it again
In moonlight on the lawn.

Now is your voice like marble high and white,
Then like a mist on fields of Paradise,
Now is a raging fire, then is like ice,
Then breaks, and it is dawn.
