

DAY BREAK.
a favorite Bohemian Melody. as Sung by the Bohemian Brothers at the Argyll Rooms
 The English Words by WALTER M^c GREGOR LOGAN, arranged for a Single Voice.
 BY N. C. BOCHSA.
Director of the Music at the Kings Theatre.

Ent. Sta. Hall.

Price 1/6

London. Published by T. Welsh at the Royal Harmonic Institution, Argyll Rooms, 246, Regent Street.

VOICE.

ANDANTE MA NON TROPPO LENTO.
 Sempre legato.

PIANO FORTE.

Ped. pp Sostenuito.

Cres. rf

pp rf

Ped. pp

* Con espres.

pp f

3412

No 171 1328

[ca. 1830]

Those who find the embellishments, in the 2^d Verse too difficult, may apply the words to the Melody of the First.

Dolce.

A wake! for who the prime of day, Would waste... in slumber's bow'r; And thus from friendship steal a way, Half life's.... short hour: A wake! a wake a ear...ly morn, Of yore the God of health was born, And Cres.

now o'er fo...rest hill and lake The day begins to break.

Cres. rf f p/p

2^d VERSE.a poco piu lento.

p h

A...wake! nor let thy youth flit by, For youth, for youth is plea...sures hour, The rose... to day that blooms may die, Ere night.....

..... shall lour: A...wake! a...wake at..... ear.....ly morn, Of yore the God..... of health was born, And now o'er fo..... rest hill and lake, The day, the day be....gins to break, A.... wake..... a..... wake..... a..... wake, a..... wake, a....wake.

Cres. rf f pp