UNDER THE VIOLETS.

Words by HOPE ARDOR.

Music by J. P. WEBSTER.

Moderato, cantabile affetuoso.

VOICE.

PIANO.

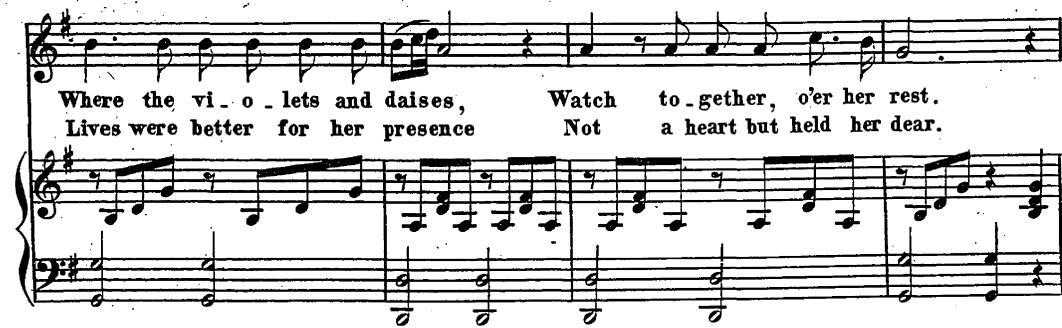

The piano introduction consists of two staves. The right hand features a flowing melody with eighth and sixteenth notes, while the left hand provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and single notes. The key signature is one sharp (F#) and the time signature is common time (C).

The first vocal line is written on a single staff. Below the staff, the lyrics are provided for two verses. The piano accompaniment continues with a steady eighth-note pattern in the right hand and chords in the left hand.

1. Sleeping where the sunbeams linger. Longest, o'er the si - lent breast,
2. Earth seemed purer, brighter, tru - er, While she dwelt a - mongstus here,

The second vocal line continues the melody. The piano accompaniment remains consistent with the previous section.

Where the vi - o - lets and daises, Watch to - gether, o'er her rest.
Lives were better for her presence Not a heart but held her dear.

When the birds sing softest music, O'er the dear head ly-ing low,
Heaven hath gain'd an angel brighter, Earth has lost a golden gem,

And the summers sweetest breezes Wan-der-gently to and fro:
She hath yielded earthly treasures, For a heav'nly di-a-dem.
